

About Kakimori

We are a stationery shop dedicated to the joy of writing. We celebrate the expression and sense of connection enriched by writing. We hope to share this joy with as many people as possible, working together with like-minded collaborators along the way.

Craftsmanship

Our work is built on the joy of shared experience. In both design and manufacture, we're committed to the happiness of the people we encounter throughout the process. We value feedback and ideas from customers; every detail is perfected together with our makers and manufacturers to deliver something we are all proud of.
